

The National Trust

"We protect and open to the public over 350 historic houses, gardens and ancient monuments.

But it doesn't stop there. We also look after forests, woods, fens, beaches, farmland, downs, moorland, islands, archaeological remains, castles, nature reserves, villages - for ever, for everyone."

The National Trust are pleased to support NSSM 2016 and would welcome FCBG members to share stories at any of their locations. These are not only Stately Homes but also gardens and parks, on hillsides, at the seaside, on cliff tops and castles, in the countryside and towns. Many are free to visit.

Please contact Louise Stothard (louisestothard@aol.com) if you would like to arrange an event for NSSM at an unusual place at a National trust location – there are many places to chose from!

Every Book Group will receive a copy of the latest Wallbook from What on Earth? A Timeline of British History, which is produced in association with the National Trust. Several National Trust properties are featured on the time line.

"We would love to know what your group thinks of the book. Did they enjoy it? What did they find interesting? Did they like the format? What did they learn from it?"

We are inviting groups or individual group members to submit a review, with a picture if possible, to info@whatonearthbooks.com. "

All reviews received by 29th April 2016 will be entered into a free prize draw to win a What on Earth? Gift Pack containing all six Wallbooks: Big History, Nature, Science & Engineering, Shakespeare; Sport and British History. The draw will take place on Wednesday 4th May.

Have fun....
